P.S.: Whenever we state 'horse' please know that it is the horse occupying a particular Nakshatra Pada and when we say 'horse Lord' it means Lord of Nakshatra in which the horse is situated.

ॐ_Theory_A_ॐ

ॐ_General_method_or_Deha_method_ॐ

You have now to learn what is Deha and Jeeva. Deha is outer body and Jeeva is internal Soul which is more important than the outer body and naturally test applied on the principles of Jeeva is more valuable than the other.

In the case of a Graha or horse its Nakshatra Lord is Deha and Nakshatra Lord of this Deha is Jeeva.

Rule 1

See if Nakshatra Lord (Deha) of the horse aspects that horse. This is the first qualification for a winner.

OR

See if Nakshatra Lord of the horse aspects Lagna.

OR

See if Lord of Lagna aspects the horse.

When even one of above conditions is existing that horse has the capacity to win, but this alone is not sufficient.

Rule 2

See the card number of the horse and count as many Rasis as its card number, reckoning from Lagna Rasi or Rasi occupied by horse. If this Rasi is aspected or conjoined by Nakshatra Lord of the horse that horse wins. More certain when Nakshatra Lord conjoins than aspects and still more certain if this Graha's number as per western system is also the same as card number.

P.S.: Wherever we say aspect it always means and includes conjunction also and not vice versa. Also conjunctive effect is more powerful than aspective effect.

This is the first mode of judging the winner.

ॐ_Theory_B_ॐ

ॐ_Jeeva_method_ॐ

The next and more powerful method is to consider Nakshatra Lord of the horse called Jeeva of the horse which acts better than Deha which has been already discussed in Theory A. As we have already said Jeeva works more powerfully than Deha.

Rule 1

See if Jeeva Lord of the horse aspects Lagna.

OR

See if Jeeva Lord of horse aspects the horse.

OR

See if Lord of Lagna aspects horse.

Even when any one of the above rule exists that horse has the capacity to win but this alone in not sufficient. As before count as many Rasis as its card number from Lagna and horse Rasi. If these Rasis are aspected (aspect includes conjunction) by the said Jeeva Lord of the horse then say it wins.

This is the second method.

ॐ_Theory_C_ॐ

This is a very important test that none knows of and is not in any of the books. This is one taught by a Nadi upon which I have developed further by my own intuition. I furnish below a table which is formulated on a definite principle which I know but ordained not to reveal it out to others by that Nadi. By this method great flukes are captured. This depends on Nakshatra Lord of the horse. I call it Nadi table. In this table there are 2 significators (indicators) for each Graha and either may be used for detection of the winner as will be explained below.

If Nakshatra Lord of horse be		Then its 2 significators (indicators) are
01	Sy	Mangal - Guru
02	Ch	Chandr - Budh
03	Ma	Surya - Ketu
04	Bu	Guru - Budh
05	Gu	Ketu - Sani
06	Sk	Ketu - Sani
07	Sa	Surya - Mangal
08	Ra	Mangal - Surya
09	Ke	Sukr - Ketu

Mode of using this method

First find Nakshatra Lords of the two significators of the particular horse. Mark Rasi counted from Lagna and horse Rasi equal to its card number. If this Rasi is aspected by the above Nakshatra Lords of significators (one or both) then that horse wins and more certain if the horse Nakshatra Lord is one of them.

ॐ Theory D ॐ

ॐ On Lord of Lagna ॐ

We now narrate 4th and the last method of judging the winner.

Rule 1

See if Lord of Lagna aspects horse.

OR

See if Lord of horse aspects Lagna. Then that horse is likely to win but this alone will not suffice.

Rule 2

Locate Rasi counting from Lagna [and] horse Rasi [as] many as the card number of the horse and see if this Lord of Lagna aspects that Rasi. Then that horse wins.

Thus we have enumerated the above 4 salient tests. In all these methods whenever the card numbered Rasi counted from Lagna and horse Rasi is aspected by the concerned significators under each test that horse may be preferred.

ॐ Chapter 5 ॐ

ॐ Order of preferrence of tests A to D ॐ

Finally we conclude the subject by pointing out the order of preference of the above tests.

(01) Method stated in Theory A and B are of paramount importance and when both tests point out the same horse that wins. If they differ prefer the latter one.

(02) Next in order of importance comes Theory C. If this test coupled with any of the tests under Theory A or B tallies take it. If all 3 tests agree then that horse will surely win.

(03) Then finally consider Theory D as a last measure. If this and any of the above 2 tests concur then that horse wins. If all first 3 tests do not indicate the horse and final test points [it] out then consider that horse but cannot be guarranteed.

(04) In the absence of all the above tests sometimes if the horse itself is situated in a Rasi equal to its card number reckoned from Lagna that wins.

(05) When on the application of the above tests many horses answer it is better to leave off that race.

(06) When only 2 horses are pointing these tests they are the horses to be payed for Quinella. [A form of bet where the better must pick the first 2 finishers in a race without concern for the order of finishing.]

In this way you may spot out the winners. Finally as a precautionary measure I would like to caution the readers that though the theories stated by us are true and correct it is the play of Almighty to see that no human being should become a full-fledged Daivagna. As fate ordains this will certainly work well with one who is passing good period as seen from then running Dasha Bhukti in his life while in the case of the unlucky punter something or other tries to mislead from the real track. This is caused by such punter preferring a failing horse to the winning one when more than one horse is indicated in the race. In such cases such unlucky punters will do well to reject races that indicate alternatives and confine only to those pointing out only one horse though there be only one event in the day.

With this little piece of sincere advice we stay our hands at this stage and hope to come forth with still better methods, if God blesses so, in future.

In confirmation of the above tests we cite hereafter one race day in each centre with full discussion to enable our readers to follow our methods and finally wish the readers good luck and goodbye.

May God bless the readers.

As we have already worked out the chart of 04.10.1970 at 02:30 pm IST at Hyderabad we shall discuss the races on that day at Hyderabad. Just to throw full light on the theory of picking up the winners in a race we discuss at full length the merits of all horses that ran in the first race and thereafter we take up only winners in each race and discus the theories.

01	Young Prince	Krittika	4	Vrishabh
	or	Jyesta	2	Vrischika
02	Episode	Krittika	4	Vrishabha

05	Celestial Glory	P. Bhadra	1	Kumbha
06	Ardent Star	Krittika	1	Mesha
07	Abhimanyu	Krittika	1	Mesha

Thus there are 6 horses running in this race. Now let us discuss one by one under all the tests narrated before.

No. 01 Young Prince

NTP 04.10.1970 Hyder (V-1)

Theory A

If you take this first sound 'A' Nakshatra of this horse becomes Krittika 2 in Vrishabha. Its Lord Surya does not aspect either this Lagna or the horse in Virshabha or the Card No. 1 situated in Makara. Similarly if the sound is taken as 'Ya' falling in Jyesta 2 in Vrischika even then its Lord does not aspect any of these elements and so this test does not indicate this horse.

Theory B

As 'Young' directs mostly to 'Ya' we take this alone hereafter.

Deha of this horse being Budh its Nakshatra Lord which becomes Jeeva of this horse is Surya who also does not aspect any of the above chief points and so even this test does not life the horse.

Theory C

Indicators of Budh, Deha of this horse, are Guru and Budh and their Nakshatra Lords are Rahu and Surya who also do not indicate.

Theory D

Sani Lord of Lagna aspects Lagna and card No. but not the horse and so this also does not indicate. Thus all tests having failed this horse failed.

No. 02 Episode; first sound is 'A' - Krittika in Vrishabha

Theory A

Surya, Deha of horse, does not aspect either the horse or Lagna and card No. situated in 2nd from Makara Lagna i.e. Kumbha so failed.

Theory B

Nakshatra Lord of this Surya being Chandr who becomes Jeeva of this horse also does not aspect the horse or Lagna or card No. So failed.

Theory C

Indicators of Surya are Mangal and Guru whose Nakshatra Lords are Sukr and Rahu. Rahu is in card No. Rasi and so it is probable to come up but does not aspect Lagna or horse. So failed.

Theory D

Sani Lord of Lagna does not aspect either the horse or card No. but aspects Lagna. So it also failed.

No. 03 Fish Pilot; first sound is 'P' - Uttara 4 in Kanya

Theory A

Deha Lord Surya conjoins horse and also aspects Meena which is 3rd from Lagna and hence the card No. So good.

Theory B

Lord of Surya, Chandr, becoming Jeeva does not aspect Lagna, horse or card No. So fails.

Theory C

Indicators of Surya are Mangal and Guru whose Nakshatra Lords are Sukr and Rahu who also do not aspect any of the principlal elements. So failed.

Theory D

Sani Lord of Lagna aspects Lagna but not the horse situated in Kanya nor its card No. situated in Meena and so it is not certain.

In our experience Theory B is more powerful than A for the simple reason that Jeeva is more valuable than Deha. Moreover this horse has another syllable with 'Pay' as its sound which does not at all act and so we leave off this horse.

No. 04 Parnasus; sound is 'Pa' - Uttaraphalguni 3 in Kanya

Theory A

Surya, Deha Lord, conjoins horse but does not aspect any other element. So doubtful.

Theory B

Jeeva Graha Chandr aspects card No. Rasi of Mesha which is in 4th from Makara Lagna - good. But it does not aspect other elements.

Theory C

Indicators of Surya are Mangal and Guru whose Lords are Sukr and Rahu. Both aspect card No. Rasi.

Theory D

Sani Lord of Lagna is both in card No. Rasi and also aspecting Lagna and has become most powerful. Thus in this case all the above tests are satisfied and so this horse won and paid a dividend of Rs. 20.

No. 05 Celestial Glory; first sound is 'Say' of Purvabhadra 1 in Kumbha

Theory A

Guru, Deha Lord, no doubt aspects the horse situated in Kumbha but not its card No. Rasi. So doubtful.

Theory B

Lord of this Guru is Rahu Jeeva of horse. Though in Rasi of horse it does not aspect the card No. Rasi of Vrishabha, 5th from Lagna. So this is also doubtful. Nor does it aspect Lagna.

Theory C

Indicators of Guru are Ketu and Sani whose Nakshatra Lords are Ketu and Surya who do not aspect either the horse, Lagna or card No. Rasi.

Theory D

Sani Lord of Lagna though aspecting Lagna which is a common feature in all cases does not aspect other elements. So it failed.

No. 06 Ardent Star; first sound 'Aa' - Krittika 1 of Mesha

No. 07 Abhimanyu; first sound 'Aa' - Krittika 1 of Mesha

The two horses sound alike with the difference that 6th horse has another syllable 'Star' with sound 'Saw' and 'Ta' of Satabisha 2 and Purvaphalguni 2 respectively.

Theory A

Surya Deha Lord does not aspect any of the principal elements and so fails.

Theory B

Chandr Jeeva of the horses also does not aspect any of the above elements and so fails.

Theory C

Indicators of Surya are Mangal and Guru whose Nakshatra Lords are Sukr and Rahu who also do not aspect any of the principal elements and so fail and so these two horses failed to win.

Thus from the analysis of all the horses in race it is only No. 04 Parnasus that has stood the maximum test and it has won. In this way you have to judge the winner.

Summarising, we see the following:

(01) If all 4 tests are satisfied then that horse will surely win.
(02) Among the entire set that which satisfies majority of tests and principally first 3 major tests wins.
(03) If at least two out of first 3 tests are satisfied then that horse wins.
(04) Theories B and C are most powerful of all.
(05) Sometimes when the horse is in Lagna that wins.
(06) In the absence of all tests if in all tests Nakshatra Lord of the horse plays parts then that wins.
(07) Malefics raising the horse pay high dividends while benefics low.

No. 06 [05] Elegant Boy won and paid Rs. 24.

This horse has 2 syllables. The first has the sound 'A' of Krittika 4 of Vrishabha and the second has the sound of 'Ba' of Moola 3 of Dhanus. Let us discuss one by one.

First syllable with sound 'A'

Theory A

Surya Deha Lord of horse bears nothing.

Theory B

Chandr Jeeva of horse in 6th from horse and hence card No. 6 won. [By authors calculation Chandr is in 7 Tula.]

Theory C

Indicators of Surya are Ketu and Guru whose Nakshatra Lords are Sukr and Rahu. Sukr in 6th from horse and hence card No. 6 won.

Theory D does not indicate Thus theories B & C have partially satisfied.

Second syllable 'Ba'

Theory A

Ketu Deha Lord aspects 6th from horse and so No. 6 won.

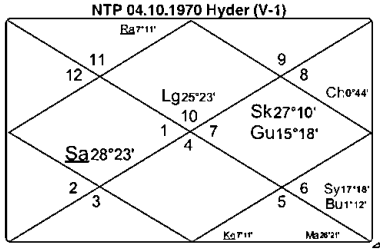

Theory B

Ketu Jeeva also aspects 6th Rasi from horse Rasi and so No. 6 won.

Theory C

Indicators of Ketu are Sukr and Ketu whose Nakshatra Lords are Guru and Ketu of whom Guru aspects 6th Rasi from Lagna and Ketu aspects 6th Rasi from horse.

NTP 04.10.1970 Hyder (V-1)

Theory D

Sani Lord of Lagna aspects 6th Rasi from Lagna. Thus in this case the card No. Rasis are aspected by all tests and more than all Ketu predominates in all cases. We have already said that when a single Graha predominates in all tests that horse wins even when [only] one solid test is satisfied.

As many tests under both syllables are satisfied it won.

3rd race; 03:45 pm; Kumbha Lagna

No. 03; Golden Haven won and paid Rs. 24.

This has 2 syllables. The sound of the first syllable is 'Go' of Satabisha 1 and the second syllable is of 'Ha' of Punarvasu 3 of Mithuna. Let us discuss one by one.

First syllable 'Go' of Satabisha 1 of Kumbha

Theory A

Rahu Deha in Lagna and with horse also in Lagna aspecting 3rd Rasi both from Lagna and horse. What more is needed than this one full test to bank on this horse even without looking to the other tests.

Theory B

Even Jeeva Lord is Rahu who repeats the above conditions and so still more assured.

Theory C

Indicators of Rahu are Mangal and Surya and their Nakshatra Lords are Sukr and Chandr. Both these Grahas aspects 3rd Rasi from Lagna and horse. Still further assured.

Theory D

See still more assured condition of Lord of Lagna (Sani) in 3rd Rasi both from Lagna and horse and the other Lord Rahu in Lagna and with horse aspecting 3rd Rasi both from Lagna and horse. What more is necessary than this to fully bank on this one horse.

Thus each one of the tests has fully endorsed its success. When it is satisfied in this manner on the first syllable itself we need not examine the other syllable and yet we shall see how that works.

Second syllable sound 'Ha' of Punarvasu 3 in Mithuna

Theory A

Guru Deha Lord aspects both the horse and Lagna as well 3rd Rasi from Lagna and horse which again fully assures on this single test alone.

Theory B

Jeeva Graha Rahu acts like what is described in Theory A and again fully assures its win even on this single test.

Theory C

Indicators of Guru are Ketu and Sani whose Nakshatra Lords are Rahu and Ketu. Both aspect Lagna and Rahu acts fully on all points as already described.

Theory D

Sani Lord of Lagna is in 3rd Rasi both from Lagna and horse and the other Lord of Lagna Rahu is in Lagna and with horse aspecting 3rd Rasi from Lagna and so even this test is singly satisfactory. Thus you see that not only each test on each syllable satisfies all conditions and also one single Graha Rahu predominates in all tests and so where is the least doubt of its first rate success. You see the best example here showing the brilliancy of our theories.

4th race; at 04:20 pm; Kumbha Lagna

No. 05 Scottish Venture won and paid Rs. 19.

This horse has two-syllabled name and the first syllable 'Scottish' is a stressed one (Ottaksharam) in that it gives rise to 2 sounds, one primary of 'Saw' of Satabisha 2 in Kumbha and the other 'Ka' the stressed one of Mrigashira 3 in Mithuna. The second syllable 'Venture' has the sound of 'Way' of Mrigashira 1 in Vrishabha. We shall consider one by one and see.

NTP 04.10.1970 Hyder (V-1)

'Saw' of Satabisha 2

Theory A

Deha Lord Rahu is in Lagna with horse and so good.

Theory B

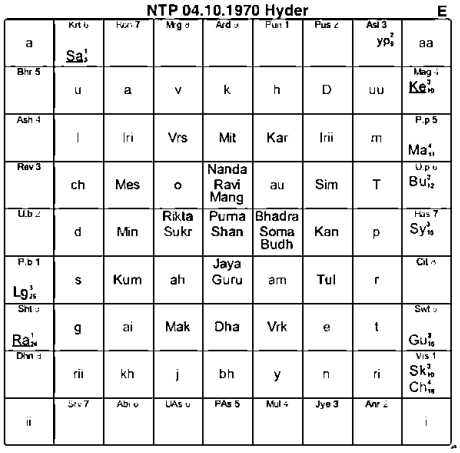

Jeeva Lord Rahu acts likewise as above and so good.

5th race; at 04:55 pm; Kumbha Lagna

No. 01 Foursmouth won and paid Rs. 10.

Its sound is 'Po' of Chitra 2 in Kanya.

Theory A

Mangal Deha Lord aspects Lagna and No. 1 from Lagna and so No. 1 won.

Theory B

Sukr Jeeva Lord does not indicate.

Theory C

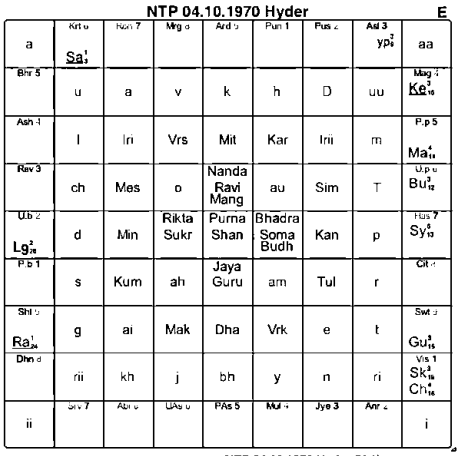

Indicators of Mangal are Surya and Ketu whose Nakshatra Lords are Chandr and Ketu. Ketu is aspecting Lagna and No. 1 Rasi from Lagna.

Theory D

Rahu Lord of Lagna in Lagna and in 1st Rasi from Lagna.

Though Theory B does not indicate as other tests have proved good the horse won.

6th race; at 05:30 pm; Meena Lagna

No. 04 Concord won and paid Rs. 19.

Its sound is 'Ka' of Mrigashira 3 in Mithuna.

Theory A

Mangal Deha Lord is aspecting Lagna and the horse itself is in 4th Rasi from Lagna which is by itself sufficient to bank the winner.

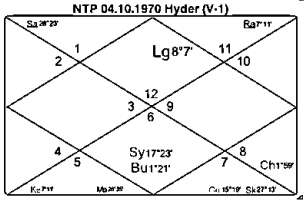

Theory B

Jeeva Sukr does not indicate.

Theory C

Indicators of Mangal are Surya and Ketu whose Nakshatra Lords are Chandr and Ketu. Neither indicates.

Theory D

Guru Lord of Lagna aspects both the horse and 4th Rasi from Lagna and so has become strong.

Though tests B and C did not indicate the most powerfully one being the horse itself in card No. Rasi backed with test D has lifted the horse.

Thus we have discussed all the animals that ran in the race and shown the method of dissection. You will thus see some events are very definite and may be banked with dead certainty. With a little practice you will pick up all the winners of this day and strike the Jackpot too.

Just to attract the readers it is the habit of some authors to cite particular races that suit their theories but we have taken at random any race that has come to our hand. Still to remove your doubts, if any, we wish to deal with other centres too. Its sound is 'Ma' of Magha 1 in Simha.

Theory A

Ketu Deha Lord is with horse and in this Rasi from horse Rasi and so won.

Theory B

Likewise is the case [with] Ketu Jeeva Lord too.

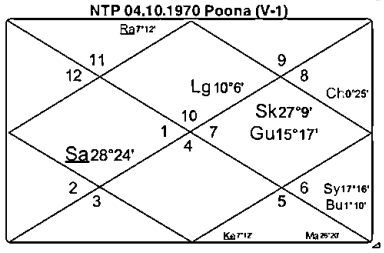

Theory C

Indicators of Ketu are Sukr and Ketu whose Nakshatra Lords are Guru and Ketu. Ketu as before acts well.

Theory D

Sani Lord of Lagna aspects Lagna and also 1st Rasi from Lagna. Note Ketu is common in many tests and most of the important tests has lifted the horse.

No. 01 Palace Girl won and paid Rs. 15.

This horse has two-syllabled name the first one sounding 'Pa' of Uttaraphalguni 3 in Kanya and the second sounding 'Ga' of Dhanista 1 in Makara. Let us consider one by one.

'Pa' of Uttaraphalguni 3 in Kanya

Theory A

Surya Deha Lord [is] with horse and in 1st Rasi from horse lifting No. 1. This one test will do.

Theory B

Chandr Jeeva Lord does not act.

Theory C

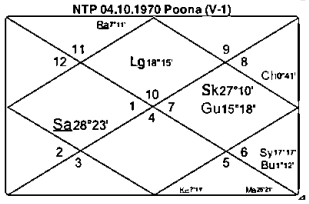

Indicators of Surya are Mangal and Guru whose Nakshatra Lords are Sukr and Rahu. They also do not indicate.

Theory D

Sani Lord of Lagna aspects Lagna and also 1st Rasi from Lagna.

Thus the powerful A test coupled with D lifted the animal.

NTP 04.10.1970 Poona (V-1)

'Ga' of Dhanista 1 in Makara

Theory A

That the horse itself is in Lagna is of utmost significance though Deha Lord Mangal has not acted.

Theory B

Sukr Jeeva Lord does not indicate.

Theory C

Indicators of Mangal are Surya and Ketu whose Nakshatra Lords are Chandr and Ketu. Both do not act.

Theory D

Sani Lord of Lagna is aspecting Lagna which is also 1st Rasi from Lagna and horse and so this test alone has become very strong and that coupled with the horse itself being in Lagna and being also No. 1 this horse has won.

Thus both the syllables are pointing to success.

No. 03 Seven Wonders won and paid Rs. 16.

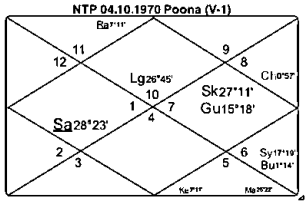

This animal has two syallables of which the first sound is 'Say' of Purvabhadra 1 of Kumbha and the second one is 'Va' of Rohini 2 in Vrishabha. We shall consider one by one.

'Say' of Purvabhadra 1 in Kumbha

Theory A

Guru Lord of Deha is aspecting both the horse as well 3rd Rasi from the horse and as per western system Guru bears the numeral 3. This one test is sufficient to back on this horse.

Theory B

Rahu Jeeva Lord is with horse and also aspecting 3rd from horse where also Sani is. Note Rahu is like Sani. Even this test is strong.

Theory C

The indicators of Guru are Ketu and Sani whose Nakshatra Lords are Ketu and Surya. Ketu aspects the horse and as Mangal is aspecting the horse and 3rd Rasi from Lagna and Ketu being like Mangal the good of Ketu is seen even here.

Theory D

Sani Lord of Lagna is aspecting Lagna and is in 3rd Rasi from horse.

As all the above tests are strongly seen this horse has won.

'Va' of Rohini 2 in Vrishabha

Theory A

Chandr Lord of Deha has no action here.

Theory B

Guru Jeeva Lord does not act.

Theory C

Indicators of Chandr are Mangal and Guru whose Nakshatra Lords are Sukr and Rahu. None act.

Theory D

Even here there is no indication.

Thus we see its second syllable not at all acting which clearly shows that first syllable is of greatest importance. As the first syllable has superbly acted the animal has won.

[Mr. Iyer is using IST time, not LMT]

No. 09 Ablukh Waroo won and paid Rs. 18.

It has again two syllables of which the first one sounds as 'AA' of Krittika 1 in Mesha and the sound as 'Va' of Rohini 2 in Vrishabha. We shall consider one by one.

'AA' of Krittika 1 in Mesha

Theory A

Surya Deha Lord is 9th Rasi from Lagna and so lifted No. 9.

Theory B

Chandr Jeeva Lord is aspecting the horse.

Theory C

Indicators of Surya are Mangal and Guru whose Nakshatra Lords are Sukr and Rahu. Both are aspecting the horse.

Theory D

Lord of Lagna is aspecting Lagna.

Thus the first 3 tests are confirming both the card No. and horse. So wins.

'Va' of Rohini 2 in Vrishabha

Theory A

Chandr Deha Lord does not indicate.

Theory B

Guru Jeeva Lord also does not indicate.

Theory C

Indicators of Chandr are Chandr and Budh whose Nakshatra Lords are Guru and Surya. Surya is in 9th Rasi from Lagna and so lifted No. 9.

Though the second syllable is feebly indicating its first syllable being of greater importance and all tests coming up well with it has made the horse win.

No. 04 Rappare won and paid Rs. 8.

Its sound is 'Raw' of Chitra 3 in Tula.

Theory A

Mangal Deha Lord aspects Lagna.

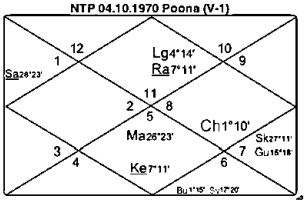

Theory B

Sukr Jeeva Lord is with horse.

Theory C

Indicators of Mangal are Surya and Ketu whose Nakshatra Lords are Chandr and Ketu. Chandr conjoins the horse and Ketu aspects both Lagna and horse and also 4th Rasi from Lagna satisfying all conditions and so this one test will do to lift it.

NTP 04.10.1970 Poona (V-1)

Theory D

Rahu Lord of Lagna is in Lagna. As Sani the other Lord of Lagna is aspecting the horse and 4th Rasi from horse this test is also strong as Rahu acts like Sani.

Thus all the tests having answered in one way or the other and some of them satifying all aspects the horse has won.

This is another instance to remember that Rahu is like Sani and Ketu like Mangal.

We will now take up another illustrations.
